Rules for Computing Interest

The following will be found to be excellent rules for finding the interest on any principal for any number of days. When the principal contains cents, point off four places from the right of the result to express the interest in dollars and cents. When the principal contains dollars only, point off two places.

Four per Cent.—Multiply the principal by the number of days to run, and divide by 90.

Five per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 72.

Six per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 60.

Seven per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 52.

Eight per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 45.

Nine per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 40.

Ten per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 36.

Twelve per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 30.

Fifteen per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 24.

Eighteen per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 20.

Twenty per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 18.

Twenty-four per Cent.—Multiply by number of days, and divide by 15.

The Metric System

The Metric System of Weights and Measures has been legalized by act of Congress, July 18, 1896.

METRIC WEIGHTS.—10 milligrams make 1 centigram, 10 centigrams 1 decigram, 10 decigrams 1 gram, 10 grams 1 dekagram, 10 dekagrams 1 hektogram, 10 hektograms 1 kilogram, 1,000 kilograms 1 metric ton.

METRIC MEASURES.—(One milliliter equals cubic centimeter.) 10 milliliters make 1 centiliter, 10 centiliters 1 deciliter, 10 deciliters 1 liter, 10 liters 1 dekaliter, 10 dekaliters 1 hektoliter, 10 hektoliters 1 kiloliter.

METRIC LENGTHS.—10 millimeters make 1 centimeter, 10 centimeters 1 decimeter, 10 decimeters 1 meter, 10 meters 1 dekameter, 10 dekameters 1 hektometer, 10 hektometers 1 kilometer.

APPROXIMATE EQUIVALENTS.

1 meter is about a yard; a kilo is about 2,200 pounds; a liter is about a quart; a centimeter is about ½ inch; a metric ton is about same as an ordinary ton; a kilometer is about ¾ mile; a cubic centimeter is about a thimbleful. A nickel five-cent piece of our coinage is a handy key to metric measures and weights. It is two centimeters in diameter and weighs five grams.

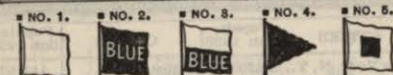

PRECISE EQUIVALENTS.

Help in Case of Accidents

BURNS AND SCALDS.—Cover with cooking soda and lay wet cloths over it. Whites of eggs and olive oil. Olive oil or linseed oil, plain, or mixed with chalk or whiting. Sweet or olive oil and lime-water. Shock, which is always present in severe burns, requires the administration of stimulants. Pain is more constant and intense in burns than in any other form of injury, and requires sedatives, which should be administered by the medical attendant. Later on the appearances of inflammation and other complications are to be carefully watched for.

SUFFOCATION FROM INHALING ILLUMINATING GAS.—Get into the fresh air as soon as possible and lie down. Keep warm. Take ammonia—twenty drops to a tumbler of water, at frequent intervals; also, two to four drops tincture of nux vomica every hour or two for five or six hours.

TESTS OF DEATH.—Hold mirror to mouth. If living, moisture will gather. Push pin into flesh. If dead, the hole will remain; if alive, it will close up. Place fingers in front of a strong light. If alive, they will appear red; if dead, black or dark.

MAD DOG OR SNAKE-BITE.—Tie cord tight above wound. Suck the wound and cauterize with caustic or white-hot iron at once, or cut out adjoining parts with a sharp knife. Give stimulants, as whisky, brandy, etc.

FIRE IN ONE'S CLOTHING.—Don't run—especially not downstairs or out-of-doors. Roll on carpet, or wrap in woolen rug or blanket. Keep the head down, so as not to inhale flame.

FIRE FROM KEROSENE.—Don't use water, it will spread the flames. Dirt, sand, or flour is the best extinguisher, or smother with woolen rug, table-cloth, or carpet.

CINDERS IN THE EYE.—Roll soft paper up like a lamp lighter, and wet the tip to remove, or use a medicine dropper to draw it out. Rub the other eye.

FAINTING.—Place flat on back; allow fresh air, and sprinkle with water. Place head lower than rest of body.

STINGS OF VENOMOUS INSECTS, ETC.—Apply weak ammonia, oil, salt water, or iodine.

LIGHTNING.—Dash cold water over a person struck.

Help in Case of Accidents

DROWNING.—1. Loosen clothing, if any. 2. Empty lungs of water by laying body on its stomach, and lifting it by the middle so that the head hangs down. Jerk the body a few times. 3. Pull tongue forward, using handkerchief, or pla with string, if necessary. 4. Imitate motion of respiration by alternately compressing and expanding the lower ribs, about twenty times a minute. Alternately raising and lowering the arms from the sides up above the head will stimulate the action of the lungs. Let it be done gently but persistently. 5. Apply warmth and friction to extremities. 6. By holding tongue forward, closing the nostrils, and pressing the "Adam's apple" back (so as to close entrance to stomach), direct inflation may be tried. Take a deep breath and breathe it forcibly into the mouth of patient, compress the chest to expel the air, and repeat the operation. 7. DON'T GIVE UP! People have been saved after HOURS of patient, vigorous effort. 8. When breathing begins, get patient into a warm bed, give WARM drinks, or spirits in teaspoonfuls, fresh air, and quiet.

SUNSTROKE.—There are two important indications for treatment—reduction of temperature and the use of stimulants. The patient should first be removed to a cooler spot if possible, or at least where shade can be secured. The treatment should be begun at once. The clothing about the neck and body must be either loosened or removed. Cold is particularly indicated in cases where there is great heat of the body, and delirium and convulsive movements are present. This means of reducing the temperature may be applied in the shape of cracked ice about the head and spine, or the use of cold water. If the heat of the body is very great, it may be necessary to wrap the patient in sheets wet with cold water. If there is, besides the great heat, evidence of serious depression, stimulants must be used while the cold is being applied.

HÆMORRHAGE.—The usual treatment is rest in the recumbent position; small pieces of ice should be freely swallowed, and the application of ice wrapped in a towel or in an ice-bag, or snow, cold water, etc., over the stomach; hot applications may be applied to the extremities.

FIRE IN A BUILDING.—Crawl on the floor. The clearest air is the lowest in the room. Cover head with woolen wrap, wet if possible. Cut holes for the eyes. Don't get excited.

Poisons and Antidotes

FIRST.—Send for a physician.

SECOND.—INDUCE VOMITING, by tickling throat with feather or finger. Drink hot water or strong mustard and water. Swallow sweet oil or whites of eggs.

Acids are antidotes for alkalis, and vice versa.

ACIDS, MINERAL.—Chalk, magnesia (plaster off wall in emergency), solution carbonate of soda, emollient drinks, fixed oils.

ACID, CARBOLIC.—Any soluble sulphate, such as magnesia.

ACID, HYDROCYANIC.—Fresh air and artificial respiration, with cold effusion. Ammonia by inhalation and intravenously in vein of leg.

ACONITE.—Emetics, stimulants, external and internal; keep up external heat, keep flat on back.

ANTIMONY TART.—Vegetable acids, such as tannic acid, catechu.

ARSENIC.—Freshly precipitated hydrated sesquioxide of iron made by adding magnesia to any iron solution.

ATROPIA.—Same as Belladonna.

BELLADONNA.—Emetics—mustard flour in water; give physostigma or pilocarpine; cold to head.

CANTHARIDES.—Emetics, emollient drinks, opiates by mouth and rectum, large draughts of water to flush kidneys.

CHLORINE WATER.—Albumen, white of egg, milk, sour.

CHLOROFORM.—Fresh air, artificial respiration (inclining head down, pull tongue forward), brandy and ammonia intravenously in leg, the HYPODERMIC injection of 15 m. tincture of digitalis and 1-60 of a grain of atropine.

COLCHICUM.—Emetics, followed by demulcent drinks. If coma be present brandy, ammonia, coffee. Opium in large dose. Keep up external heat.

CONIUM.—Emetics, followed by stimulants external and internal.

CORROSIVE SUBLIMATE.—Albumen, white of egg (4 gr. sublimate require white of one egg), sour, milk. Equal parts of lime water and milk. Emetics, or evacuate stomach by pump.

Poisons and Antidotes

COPPER SULPH.—Yellow prussiate of potash or soap.

CROTON OIL.—Emetics; wash out stomach, followed by mucilaginous fluids, containing opium.

DIGITALIS.—Recumbent posture after emetics. Emetics and opium; give tincture aconite.

ELATERIUM.—Demulcent drinks, enemata of opium, and external heat.

HYOSCYAMUS.—Stomach pump, emetics, stimulants external and internal, physostigma and pilocarpine.

ILLUMINATING GAS.—Hypodermic injections of nitroglycerin are recommended by Kloman, of Baltimore.

IODINE.—Emetics and demulcent drinks, starch or flour diffused in water, opium and external heat.

LEAD SALTS.—Any soluble sulphate, either magnesia or soda, succeeded by emetics, and afterwards by opium and milk.

LOBELIA.—Stimulants externally and internally; external heat.

MORPHINE.—Same as opium.

NUX VOMICA.—30 grs. of chloral and 60 grs. of bromide of potash. Nitrite of amyl.

OPIUM.—Atropine hypodermically till respirations number 8 per minute. Stomach pump, stimulants, external and internal, brandy and coffee, cold affusion, ammonia to nostrils, galvanic shocks, compelling to move about, artificial respiration, electric brush. Permanganate of Potash.

OXALIC ACID.—Lime, not potash or soda.

PHOSPHORUS.—Sulphate of copper in emetic dose as chemical antidote. No oils. Emetics and purgatives.

POTASH AND SODA SALTS.—Dilute acetic acid, citric acid, lemon juice, fixed oils, demulcents, vinegar.

SILVER NITRATE.—Solution of common salt and demulcent drinks. Emetics.

STRAMONIUM.—Same as Belladonna.

STRYCHNINE.—Same as Nux Vomica.

TOBACCO.—Emetic, stimulants, external and internal, strychnine, external heat.

ZINC SALTS.—Carbonate of soda, emetics, warm demulcent drinks.

OLIVIA D. JOHNSON TO MARRY SINGER

Novelist's Daughter to Wed Tomorrow Peter F. Chambers of American Opera Company.

ENGAGEMENT UNANNOUNCED

Junior League Girl's Betrothal to
John D. Lowrey of Montreal
Was Recently Broken.

Miss Olivia Devereux Johnson, daughter of Owen Johnson, the novelist, of Stockbridge, Mass., and Peter Ferguson Chambers, son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Chambers of 137 East Sixty-sixth Street, and a nephew of Robert W. Chambers, the novelist, will be married tomorrow at noon at the home of Miss Johnson's grandmother, Mrs. George Washington Stockly, 128 East Sixtieth Street. No announcement of the engagement has been made. Because of the serious illness of Miss Johnson's uncle, George J. Stockly, only members of the families and a few intimate friends will witness the ceremony, which will be performed by the Rev. Dr. Karl Reiland of St. George's Church.

Miss Johnson will be unattended. John F. Speiden of 43 Washington Square South, will be the best man.

Miss Johnson is a daughter by her father's first marriage. Her mother, who died in 1911, was the former Miss Mary Galt Stockly of Cleveland, Ohio. She is a granddaughter of Robert Underwood Johnson, former American Ambassador to Rome and at one time editor of The Century Magazine. Miss Johnson, who is a member of the Junior League, has been living with her grandmother, Mrs. George W. Stockly, at 128 East Sixtieth Street.

On Sept. 5 Mr. and Mrs. Johnson announced from Ingleside, their country place in Stockbridge, the engagement of Miss Johnson and John Douglas Lowrey of Montreal. On Oct. 27 it was announced from Pittsfield, Mass., that the engagement had been broken by mutual consent.

Mr. Chambers is a member of the American Opera Company, which will open in New York in January.

Forsyth—Marquand.

Special to The New York Times.

PRINCETON, N. J., Feb. 5.—The marriage of Miss Eleanor Marquand, daughter of Mrs. Allan Marquand, and the late Professor Marquand, to George Howard Forsyth Jr., son of Mr. and Mrs. George H. Forsyth of Burlingame, Cal., took place this afternoon at Guernsey Hall, the home of the bride's mother. Southern smilax and flowers sent from North Carolina, by a friend of the bride, decorated the house. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Dr. Henry Sloane Coffin, President of the Union Theological Seminary, before a portrait by Sargent of the bride's grandmother, the late Mrs. Henry G. Marquand. On each side of it were grouped palms, ferns and calla lilies.

The bride was escorted by her brother, Allan Marquand Jr. She wore a gown of white satin mellowed with age to a deep ivory color and a veil of old family point lace. Both the gown and veil had been worn by her aunt, the late Mrs. Henry Galbraith Ward, when a bride, and which was a gift to yesterday's bride by her uncle, Judge Henry Galbraith Ward. The bride carried a bouquet of lilies of the valley.

Professor Albert M. Friend was best man for Mr. Forsyth. There were no other bridal attendants.

Invitations to the ceremony were limited to relatives and a few intimate friends, but extra guests were asked to the reception which followed.

Among the guests were Miss Emily Redmond, the Misses Cross, John W. Cross, John W. Cross Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Redmond Cross, Miss Emily Cross, Elliot Cross, Mrs. Henry Marquand, Miss Godwin, Roderick Terry Jr., Miss Angelica Livingston, Miss Frances Livingston, Mr. and Mrs. Frederick Marquand Godwin, Mrs. Roland Redmond, Mr. and Mrs. Henry B. Hollins Jr., Miss Dorothy Redmond, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis S. Thompson and Miss Virginia Hoyt, Mrs. Allen Curtis, Mrs. R. James Cross, Mrs. Robert Bacon, Prince and Princess Sidamon Eristoff, Mr. and Mrs. Anestos Hades, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Robinson, Professor and Mrs. Henry F. Osborn, Henry Rutgers Marshall, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Van Vleck Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Edward G. Janeway, Miss Ruth Morgan, Miss Frances Howland, Miss Margaret Janeway, Miss Adalaide Landon, Miss Lucia Norton, Miss Winifred Rockefeller, Victor Logan, Thomas Lord and Lawrence Seymour.

Also Mr. and Mrs. Henry Duffield, Mrs. John Carnochan, Mrs. Henry Post Mitchell, Mrs. Charles Browne, Mrs. Ario Pardee, Mr. and Mrs. John Potter Cuyler, Miss Helen Howe, Miss Mary Merrill Stockton, Professor Henry Norris Russell, Mrs. Donald Guyot Cameron, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Erdman, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard Barnes Lambert, John P. Cuyler Jr. Dr. and Mrs. J. Bentley Squier of New York.

CHARLES M. HOUGH, NOTED JURIST, DEAD

Senior Judge of United States Court of Appeals Victim of Heart Disease.

ON BENCH FOR 21 YEARS

Courts Suspend Sessions After Colleagues Mourn Loss—Warm
Tribute From Hughes.

Charles Merrill Hough, senior Judge of the United States Circuit Court of Appeals, Second Circuit, and for twenty-one years a member of the Federal bench, died yesterday morning at his home, 152 East Thirty-fifth Street, of angina pectoris, after an illness of several weeks not at first believed to be serious. His age was 68.

News of Judge Hough's death was received with surprise at the Federal Building, his associates not having been aware that he was gravely ill. Judge Martin T. Manton, who now becomes the senior member of the Circuit Court of Appeals, and who was presiding at a hearing before that tribunal, announced the passing of Judge Hough briefly from the bench, saying that the court and the bar had sustained a great loss, and then adjourned court until Tuesday.

In all three branches of the Federal courts in Brooklyn business was suspended for the day, and Judges Robert A. Inch, Grover M. Moscovitz and Marcus B. Campbell eulogized the dead jurist and ordered that a minute be entered in the court records expressing their sorrow.

Judge Hough leaves a widow and two children, Miss Helen Hough and John Newbold Hough, both of whom are of age. At the house it was announced that at Judge Hough's request the funeral services would be private. Interment will be in the family plot in New Jersey.

Had Reputation as Clear Thinker.

The dead jurist had made for himself a reputation as a Judge of great independence and remarkably clear thinking and was held in high regard, not only by his associates in the courts but among all lawyers who practiced in those courts. Though before his appointment to the bench he had been a member of the local counsel for the Pennsylvania Railroad, Robinson, Biddle & Ward, and though his association with the railroad and other large corporations had been urged against him, the record of his decisions showed clearly, lawyers pointed out yesterday, that his early associations had not resulted in any mental bias. There are among his decisions several against large corporations.

Judge Hough was born in Philadelphia on May 18, 1858, the son of a retired Brigadier General, Alfred Lacey Hough, and Mary Merrill Hough. His mother was a descendant of Nathaniel Merrill, who settled in Massachusetts in 1632. He was educated at the Kimball Union Academy, Meriden, N. H., and at Dartmouth College, graduating from the latter in 1879. He was admitted to the bar in 1883, having, after leaving college, taught school for a year and taken up the study of law under Richard C. McMurtrie of Philadelphia.

After his admission to the bar Judge Hough joined the firm of Biddle & Ward, and when that firm opened an office in this city he came here. He specialized for some time in admiralty cases, and later in bankruptcy cases. In later years this experience proved of value to him on the bench. Early in his career he attracted attention as an able lawyer, and counted among his clients many large steamship companies, appearing frequently as proctor in important maritime suits.

On Monitor in Spanish War.

From 1892 to 1899 Judge Hough served in the Naval Militia of New the self-sacrificing devotion of service on the bench, a sacrifice and a service too little appreciated by our people.

"Judge Hough had a rare judicial ability. His clarity of thought and vigor of expression, combined with ability to go with amazing directness to the heart of each problem and a compelling sense of justice, made him admired and respected by all who witnessed his extraordinary competency in administration. Among all the able Judges who have served in this Federal District, he stood in the foremost rank."

Judge Learned Hand, long associated with Judge Hough, said the latter had been an outstanding figure among the citizenry, members of the bar and American jurists, and that his loss would long be felt by his friends and the public generally.

United States Attorney Charles H. Tuttle said:

"Judge Hough was one of the country's greatest Judges. His judicial opinions covering a score of years not only have become a distinguished part of our American jurisprudence, but have profoundly affected the development of the commercial and social life of our people. He was a great judicial statesman. With his passing the bench loses one of its ablest minds and the nation one of its leaders."

able lawyer, and counted among his clients many large steamship companies, appearing frequently as proctor in important maritime suits.

On Monitor In Spanish War.

From 1892 to 1899 Judge Hough served in the Naval Militia of New York, Fourth Division, part of the time as Boatswain's Mate. He was a member of the militia crew of the Monitor Nahant in the Spanish-American War. For two years he was a member of a local school board in this city, and he also served as Chairman of the Institute for the Improved Instruction of Deaf Mutes.

He was appointed a Judge of the United States District Court by President Roosevelt in June, 1906. A factional fight was in progress in the Republican Party in this city at the time, and opposition developed to every one who was proposed for the vacant place. However, Attorney General Moody, who made an investigation at the behest of President Roosevelt, reported in favor of Mr. Hough's appointment, writing to the President in part:

"You told me that you wished to select for this position the very best man available and urged me to take the utmost pains to ascertain and report to you the name of that man, giving consideration only to the character and capacity of the candidate, the interest of the people and the Bar. I was informed that it was the belief that Hough would be a remarkably good appointment and in a marked degree was the best candidate."

Wilson Honors Him.

The estimate of Attorney General Moody was borne out in 1916 when President Wilson, a Democrat, notwithstanding that Judge Hough was a Republican, appointed him to fill a vacancy in the Circuit Court of Appeals created by the resignation of the late Judge E. Henry Lecombe. Several times during his career on the bench Judge Hough was seriously considered for appointment to the United States Supreme Court.

Judge Hough was President of the Maritime Law Association and never gave up his interest in the admiralty branch of jurisprudence. In 1922 he and Norman V. Beecher, admiralty counsel for the United States Shipping Board, were the representatives of this country at the International Conference on Maritime Law held in Brussels. Both recommended changes in the law affecting shipping in all parts of the world.

Many of the more important cases in the Federal courts in this district were tried before Judge Hough. Among them was the Charles W. Morse and F. Augustus Heinze case. Another important ruling by Judge Hough concerned what was meant by "good-will" in the 80-cent gas case.

Judge Hough married in 1903 Miss Ethel Powers, daughter of John E. Powers. Besides the house in East Thirty-fifth Street, he possessed when he died the homestead in Burlington County, N. J., which had been in his family for 240 years.

The late jurist was a member of the University Club, the Pennsylvania Society, the American Bar Association, the New York State Bar Association and the Association of the Bar of the City of New York.

Tribute from Charles E. Hughes.

Charles Evans Hughes, former Secretary of State, paid this tribute yesterday to Judge Hough:

"The death of Judge Hough is a most serious loss to the community. His career illustrates in a striking way

W. KESLEY SCHOEPP DIES.

Cincinnati Had Been In Control of Several Street Railways.

Special to The New York Times.

CINCINNATI, May 6.—W. Kesley Schoepf, son of a Hungarian army officer, who, through sheer determination and tireless energy, gained operating control of a half dozen street railway companies, died here today of heart disease at the age of 62.

He started his career as an assistant engineer for Washington street railway interests and in 1899 became Vice President and General Manager of the Consolidated Traction Company of Pittsburgh.

Two years later he organized the Cincinnati Traction Company and still later organized and became head of the Ohio Traction Company and the Cincinnati Car Company. He also had been in control of the Ohio Electric Railway Company, the Terre Haute, Indianapolis & Eastern, and the Indiana Union Traction.

He was a director of two banks and several manufacturing concerns.

COMMON LAW MARRIAGE SUIT LEGAL NOVELTY

Does a common law marriage take precedence over a ceremonial marriage?

That's the novel question that will confront a jury before Supreme Court Justice John M. Tierney today when the suit of Rose Mitchell Barr to annul the marriage of W. Manning Barr to Marjorie Bird Barr comes to trial.

Justice
John M. Tierney

Barr is a Wall Street broker, a member of the bond house of Barr Bros. & Co., 14 Wall st. He is 30. Rose Mitchell Barr is 27.

According to the complainant, she and the broker became man and wife by mutual understanding on Sept. 15, 1921. This was shortly after her first husband divorced her in Chicago for desertion.

Her attorney, Charles Tausig, 220 Broadway, declares his client and Barr lived together as man and wife for five years. Barr's lawyer, Benjamin F. Schreiber, 66 Broadway, asserts the broker and the plaintiff never entered into a common law marriage and never lived as man and wife.

"Our marriage has never been dissolved by a court and still is in full force," asserts Rose Mitchell Barr in her complaint.

On March 6, 1926, Barr had a ceremonial marriage to the former Miss Marjorie Bird at Plainfield, N. J. On Feb. 21 last a daughter was born to the couple.

There have been few lawsuits of this nature in the history of the

Mrs. W. P. Philips Sues For Divorce at Reno

RENO, Nev., Sept. 24.—Charging that her husband, William Pyle Philips of New York, is self-centered and inconsiderate and that he has repeatedly made her miserable because of his failure to attend social gatherings with her, Harriet Phillips has filed suit for divorce in District Court here. She charges also that he openly indicated his displeasure when she had guests and that she has had to give up all her friends. Mrs. Philips said that once, when in a hospital recovering from a serious illness, he never came to see her.

Mr. Philips is a member of the banking firm of J. & W. Seligman & Co., 54 Wall street, and a director of several industrial companies. His home is at 42 East Sixty sixth street. Mr. Philips is 45 years old and a graduate of the Harvard Law School of the class of 1907.

William II. to sign his abdication.

Baron von Maltzan in November, 1918, was First Secretary at the German Legation at The Hague, and as such was dispatched by Minister Rosen to Amerongen Castle to secure personally the signed formal renunciation of the Kaiser to the throne.

For three days Baron von Maltzan was a guest of Count Bentinck, but the Emperor declined to receive him. On November 28, the Baron met the former Kaiser, who wore a gray field uniform, in the hall of the first floor of the castle. The exiled monarch halted as Baron von Maltzan bowed and looking sharply at him said in an injured voice: "You, too, belong to the rascals of the Foreign Office who cheated and lied to me throughout my reign."

Baron Maltzan replied: "I beg pardon, but as far as I am concerned I do not deserve this reproach. May I respectfully remind you of the observations I made to you in 1914 on my return from Pekin when I pointed out Germany's wrong policy in East-

Miss Olivia Johnson.

BETROTHAL ENDED

Miss Johnson's Engagement to J. D. Lowrey Is Broken.

PITTSFIELD, Mass., Oct. 28.—Announcement was made last night by Miss Olivia Johnson, daughter of Owen Johnson, the novelist, that her engagement to John Douglas Lowrey of Montreal had been broken by mutual consent. The wedding had been planned for September 10 at Stockbridge, and was later postponed until after the first of the year in New York. Miss Johnson will leave Stockbridge Saturday and will pass the winter in New York with her grandmother, Mrs. George Stockly of 128 East Sixtieth street.

The engagement of Miss Johnson and Mr. Lowrey was originally announced September 5, and at that time it was said that the wedding would take place on October 8 at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Owen
Johnson at Stockbridge.

Miss Johnson is a daughter by her father's first marriage. Her mother, the former Mary Galt Stockly of Cleveland, Ohio, died in 1911. Miss
Johnson is a member of the Junior League. Mr. Lowrey is a son of the late Grosvenor P. Lowrey, at one time head of the law firm of Lowrey, Stone & Auerbach of this city.
